

Mollusca

Nautilus

Giant topshell

Chiton

Did you know? Mollusca is the 2nd largest animal phylum with over 90 000 species! Their shells are grown continuously and are made of the mineral calcite, which over time forms sedimentary rocks such as the chalk (type of limestone) found in the White Cliffs of Dover!

See this specimen in the Mollusca case (no. 2).